

Table with multiple columns containing names, addresses, and amounts. The table is organized into sections for different regions like '商丘' and '永城'. Each row lists a name, an address or organization, and a numerical value, likely representing a bid amount or a specific record.